Reed's Rules in the Senate. REED's rules in the House of Representa tives would not accomplish the purpose for which they were adopted if their operation were confined to that body, seeing that the dilatory motions which it is the object of those rules to strangle or forestall would reappear in the Senate. It re-

We do not suppose that anybody was surprised yesterday to learn that the miserable sectionalist William E. Chandles had on the day before introduced into the Senate a resolution which, if it shall become a rule, will enable the president of that body not only to count a quorum of his own at will, but to enforce the previous

This resolution may be accepted, we fear, though CHANDLER said it was not a caucus measure, as indicating the determination of the Republicans in Congress so to fortify themselves this year in the Government offices as to render it impossible for the Democrats to dislodge them next fall in the House of Representatives, or at any time in the near future in the Senate. We quote from Chandler's resolution:

quote from Chandlers's resolution:

"Whenever a bill or resolution reported from a committee is under consideration, the Senate may, on motion (to be acted on without debate or dilatory motions), order that on a day not less than six days after the passage of the order debate shall cease and the Senate proceed to disnose of the bill or resolution, and when said day shall arrive at 3 o'clock the vote shall be forthwith taken without debate or dilatory motions upon any amendments to the bill or resolution and upon the passage thereof.

"Whenever a quorum of senators shall not vote upon any roll-call, the presiding officer, at the request of any senator, shall officer, at the request of any senator, shall resolution and upon the passage thereof.

"Whenever a quorum of senators shall not vote upon any roll-call, the presiding officer, at the request of any senator, whal cause to be entered upon the Journal the names of all senators present and not voting, and such sonators shall be deemed and taken as in attendance and present as a part of a quorum to do business, and declaration of the result of the voting shall be made accordingly."

Chander and added to the resolution as we have quoted it the statement that the purpose of the rule was to expedite the taking of votes in the Senate and to facilitate the public business. The insertion of three words was a confession of guilt. Chanders have that the real object of the proposed resolution was the perpetuation of the rule of such small-fry sectionalists as himself; and he was universelved by a motive which nobody had charged him with being governed by. The Washington correspondent of the Alexandria Gazetie says that Mr. Hosh has nearly completed his election bill, which will provide that all congressional elections the United States circuit courts shall appoint to more objectionable law than the present one might be described in the same words. It will be recollected that in his annual message to Congress President Harman or the Freident Scown State, and chairman of the President Alexandria Gazetie of the Alexandria Gazetie says that the present one might be described in the same words. It will be recollected that in his annual message to Congress President Harman or the Scown State, and chairman of the Freident Scown State, and chairman of the Frei forced through the Senate under the operation of the Crandle rule. Next Tuesday the Republican caucus will concern the penitontary. Bishop was brought into court and sentenced by the judge.

nent victory. The Republican party can-ligh not survive another national defeat. It will make one more desperate struggle, but a struggle that will be a dying one if the Democrats do their duty.

THE STLVER BILL .- We have to confess that the silver bill agreed upon in the Republican congressional cancus is a better measure than we had hoped for from the party of monometallists. At the same time we must before committing ourselves to its support examine into its probable opera-tion and hear from the chiefs among the bimetallists-the experts who have studied the question in all its bearings. Senator PLUMB says that he will in the Senate offer an amendment which, if adopted, will authorize the free coinage of silver. Even this is a measure which, whilst we are disposed to hope for much from its operation, is so radical a change in the financial policy of the country that we are somewhat

We glory in the spirit shown by the pubhe-spirited people of Chicago. They are determined to make a success of the World's Fair of 1892. Major Downro said that ZERE BIOELOW was a man who would "either make a spoon or spoil a horn." Chicago is like ZERE BIOELOW. She has, too, the Jingo spirit. In fact, foreseeing the difficulties which the inhabitants of that wonderful Lake City are preparing to overcome, we begin to doubt whether any other city could have done as well in this matter as Chicago promises to do-promises, not in words only, but by deeds.

THE UNVEILING

THE CONFEDERATE SOLDIERS OF MONUMENT AT BLANDFORD.

Gordon McCabe the Orator-Interesting Scene in Church-Bishop Guilty of Murder in Second Degree.

Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.

PRIERSBURG, VA., April 24, 1890.

All necessary arrangement for the unveiling of the Confederate Soldiers' monument in Blandford cemetery on the 9th of June are being made by the Ladies' Memorial Association as rapidly as possible. The monument proper has been placed in position and the figure of the Confederate soldier which is to stand upon it is expected to reach here within a short time. Colonel W. Gordon McCabe has accepted the invitation of the association to deliver the oration on the occasion, and the ceremonies and services generally will be of the most appropriate and impressive character. It is feared that the visit of so many of the military companies of the State to Richmond on the 29th of May to take part in the unveiling of the Lee statue may prevent so large a military attendance here as was desired, but, nevertheless, a number of companies are expected.

extall would reappear in the Senate. It required no ghost to come from the grave to teach this lesson. In fact, we stated last week that the Republicans of the Senate would probably resort to the previous question in order to enable them to pass and send to the President the partisan bills which the more malignant among them have from the first been bent upon enacting into laws for the perpetuation of the rule of the worst party and the most dangerous party to the liberties of the people which has ever had an existence in this country.

RICHMOND, April 25, 1890. There was a time, and only a few years back, too, when the demand for CHILDREN'S CAPS amounted to comparatively nothing. But the growing predilection in favor of arraying the little ones in becoming outfits has caused the manufacturers to turn their attention toward the production of something at once pretty, suitable, and comfortable. To-day the call is so great that the business has become an independent one instead of auxiliary to another as of old.

While we have always catered-even in our old store-to the juvenile trade, we are better able now to keep and display a larger and more choice assortment of goods than we ever dreamed of in the past. To-day you will find in our store an abundance of beautiful PIQUE HATS and BONNETS, CORDED MULL CAPS, and SHIRRED HATS; also the same goods in CHINA SILK and SURAH.

One who had not seen our stock would be surprised at the variety of styles in EMBROIDERED and PLAIN CAPS in existence. Nobody has an assortment that can compare with ours. Black is as popular a color for children this season as for grown people, and we show the goods we have mentioned in sable as well as white; and we carry a great many exclusive styles not to be found else-
